

University of North Alabama

Employee Policy Manual and Handbook

Conservation

The University has a responsibility for both economy and conservation in the use of energy. Lights should be turned off when offices, rooms, and buildings are not occupied. Equipment requiring electricity should be turned off when not in use. Conservation procedures include removing lights not essential to safety and security and using proper temperature settings.