

University of North Alabama

Staff Handbook

Service Date (also referenced in the Employee Policy Manual & Handbook)

An employee's service date is the date they were employed in a full-time, regular capacity by the University after which there has been no break in service by reason of termination of employment. This date is the date upon which annual leave accruals and service award eligibility are based.