

University of North Alabama

Staff Handbook

Benefits Programs and Information

Overview

The University of North Alabama offers a comprehensive benefits program that provides protection and services to meet the needs of its employees throughout various stages of life. To get detailed information about each benefit offered, please refer to the Benefits section of the Office of Human Resources website or to contact Human Resources at extension 4291.